1 Title

This Act is the Criminal Records (Clean Slate) Act 2004.

Part 1 Preliminary provisions

2 Commencement

This Act comes into force on a date to be appointed by the Governor-General by Order in Council.

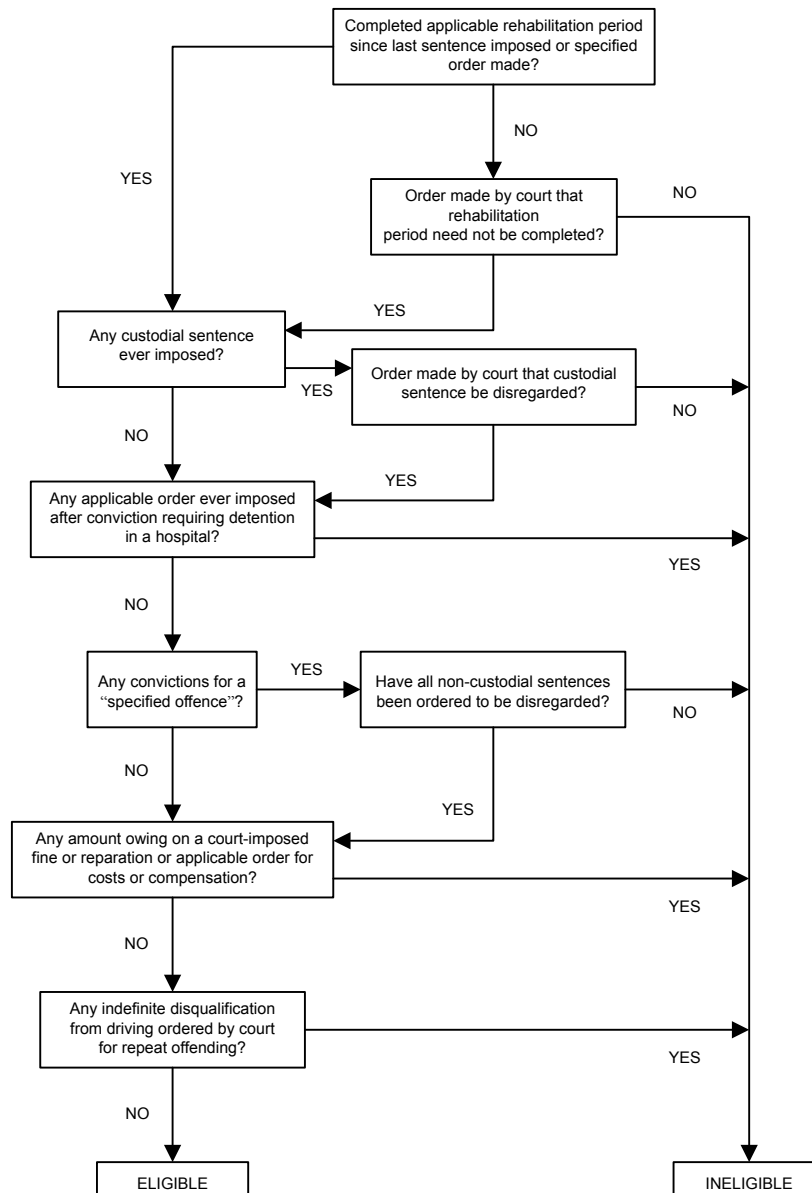

Section 2: Criminal Records (Clean Slate) Act 2004 brought into force, on 29 November 2004, by the Criminal Records (Clean Slate) Act Commencement Order 2004 (SR 2004/377).

3 Overview

- (1) This Act establishes a clean slate scheme to limit the effect of an individual's convictions in most circumstances (subject to certain exceptions set out in section 19) if the individual satisfies the relevant eligibility criteria.
- (2) If an individual satisfies the relevant eligibility criteria,—
 - (a) he or she is deemed to have no criminal record for the purposes of any question asked of him or her about his or her criminal record; and
 - (b) he or she has the right to have his or her criminal record concealed by government departments and law enforcement agencies that hold or have access to his or her criminal record.

- (3) A general overview of eligibility under the clean slate scheme is set out in diagrammatic form as follows:

General overview of eligibility under the clean slate scheme

Note: This general overview of eligibility under the clean slate scheme is by way of indication only. Detailed rules set out in the Act determine an individual's eligibility.

4 Interpretation

In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,— clean slate scheme means the scheme established by Part 2 under which an eligible individual—

- (a) is deemed to have no criminal record for the purposes of any question asked of him or her about his or her criminal record; and
- (b) has the right to have his or her criminal record concealed by government departments and law enforcement agencies that hold or have access to his or her criminal record community-based sentence means—

- (a) a community-based sentence as defined in section 4(1) of the Sentencing Act 2002; and
- (b) a community-based sentence as defined in section 2(1) of the Criminal Justice Act 1985; and
- (c) a sentence of a similar kind to those referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) (including, without limitation, a sentence of community care, a sentence of probation, or a sentence of residential periodic detention) imposed under an earlier corresponding enactment conceal means to protect the criminal record or information about the criminal record of an eligible individual from disclosure to a person, body, or agency (including, without limitation, a government department or law enforcement agency) for which there is no lawful authority under this Act to disclose the criminal record or any information about the criminal record controlling public office has the meaning given in section 4 of the Public Records Act 2005

conviction—

- (a) means a conviction entered by a court in New Zealand for an offence, including a conviction for a traffic offence; and
- (b) does not include a conviction entered by the Court Martial of New Zealand or a disciplinary officer under the Armed Forces Discipline Act 1971 or resulting from an appeal from a decision under that Act criminal record means,—

- (a) in relation to a question asked of an individual, any—
 - (i) charges laid against him or her that have resulted in conviction; and
 - (ii) convictions entered against him or her; and
 - (iii) sentences imposed on him or her; and
 - (iv) orders imposed on him or her as a result of a conviction; and
- (b) in relation to a request for disclosure or an obligation to conceal,—
 - (i) any public record (including, without limitation, an electronic public record) that is kept by, or on behalf of, the Crown of—

- (A) charges that result in conviction; and
 - (B) convictions entered (including, without limitation, any item on a list of previous convictions); and
 - (C) sentences imposed (including, without limitation, any item on a list of previous sentences); and
 - (D) orders imposed on an offender as a result of a conviction; but
- (ii) does not include details in a marriage certificate or civil union certificate of a conviction for bigamy recorded under section 60 of the Births, Deaths, Marriages, and Relationships Registration Act 1995 (or any corresponding provision of an earlier enactment) or section 62F of that Act and included in the certificate under regulations made under section 88(1)(b) of that Act custodial sentence means a sentence of imprisonment imposed under the Sentencing Act 2002 or under any earlier corresponding enactment; and includes—

- (a) a sentence of corrective training; and
- (b) a sentence of preventive detention; and
- (c) a sentence of imprisonment served by way of home detention; and
- (d) a sentence of borstal training; and
- (e) a sentence of detention centre training; and
- (f) any other sentence that requires the full-time detention of an individual eligible individual means an individual who is eligible to have the clean slate scheme apply to him or her under section 7(1) or as a consequence of an order made by a court under section 9, section 10, or section 12 individual means a natural person, other than a deceased natural person law enforcement agency means—

- (a) an agency that holds or has access to information described in Schedule 5 of the Privacy Act 1993; and
- (b) the Department of Labour, the Inland Revenue Department, and the New Zealand Customs Service non-custodial sentence includes, but is not limited to, a community-based sentence, a sentence of home detention, a sentence of a fine or reparation, a suspended sentence of imprisonment, and a specified order prison officer means a person who is an officer as defined in section 3(1) of the Corrections Act 2004 probation officer has the same meaning as in section 4(1) of the Sentencing Act 2002 public record has the meaning given in section 4 of the Public Records Act 2005

registrar means a registrar of the District Court; and includes a deputy registrar of the District Court rehabilitation period, in relation to an individual, means any period of not less than 7 consecutive years after the date on which the individual was last sentenced, or a specified order was last made, in which the individual has not been convicted of an offence security officer has the same meaning as in section 3(1) of the Corrections Act 2004 sentence means a sentence imposed by a court in New Zealand for a conviction for an offence specified offence means any of the following offences:

- (a) an offence committed (whether before or after the commencement of the Crimes Amendment Act 2005) against any of the following provisions of the Crimes Act 1961:
 - (i) section 130 (incest):

This Act binds the Crown.

Part 2 Clean slate scheme

6 Application of clean slate scheme

- (1) The clean slate scheme applies (except as provided in section 31(3) of the Vulnerable Children Act 2014) to every question asked about, and every request made for the disclosure of, an eligible individual's criminal record or information about an eligible individual's criminal record whether asked or made on or after the commencement of this Act.
- (2) The clean slate scheme applies—
 - (a) to all sentences, whether imposed before or on or after the commencement of this Act; and
 - (b) to all specified orders, whether made before or on or after the commencement of this Act.

Section 6(1): amended, on 1 July 2015, by section 44(2) of the Vulnerable Children Act 2014 (2014 No 40).

7 Who is eligible under clean slate scheme

- (1) An individual is eligible under the clean slate scheme if—
 - (a) he or she has completed a rehabilitation period since the date on which a sentence was last imposed, or a specified order was last made, as a result of a conviction for an offence, or he or she is an individual in relation to whom an order has been made under section 9 or section 10(2); and
 - (b) no custodial sentence has ever been imposed on him or her; and
 - (c) no order has ever been made in relation to him or her under section 34(1)(b) of the Criminal Procedure (Mentally Impaired Persons) Act 2003, section 118 of the Criminal Justice Act 1985, or section 39J of the Criminal Justice Act 1954 (being an order imposed, instead of passing sentence, that the offender be treated or cared for in a manner that the offender's mental impairment requires, either in the offender's interest, or for the safety of the public, or for the safety of a person or class of person); and
 - (d) he or she has not been convicted of a specified offence; and
 - (e) in the case of a court having imposed a sentence of a fine or reparation on the individual, the amount owing has been paid in full or has been deemed to have been remitted; and
 - (f) in the case of a court having ordered the individual to pay costs or compensation under section 106, section 108, or section 110 of the Sentencing Act 2002 (or a corresponding provision of an earlier enactment), the amount owing has been paid in full or has been deemed to have been remitted; and
 - (g) no order has ever been made disqualifying him or her from holding or obtaining a driver licence under section 65 of the Land Transport Act 1998 or a driver's licence under section 30A of the Transport Act 1962.
- (2) An individual in relation to whom a disqualification order has been made under either of the sections referred to in subsection (1)(g) does not become eligible to have the clean slate scheme apply to him or her as a consequence of the Director removing, or having removed, the disqualification under section 100 of the Land Transport Act 1998 or section 30C of the Transport Act 1962.

8 Effect of further conviction on eligibility

- (1) If, at any time after becoming an eligible individual (either under section 7(1) or as a consequence of an order made by the court under section 9, section 10, or section 12), an eligible individual is convicted of an offence, he or she is no longer an eligible individual.
- (2) An individual referred to in subsection (1) again becomes an eligible individual if he or she—

- (a) completes a rehabilitation period beginning on the day after the date on which he or she was sentenced for, or the specified order was made in relation to, that conviction or is an individual in relation to whom an order has been made under section 9 or section 10(2); and
- (b) is otherwise eligible under section 7(1) to have the clean slate scheme apply to him or her.

9 Individual may apply to District Court for order that rehabilitation period need not be completed

- (1) An individual who is otherwise eligible under section 7(1) may make an application to the District Court for an order under subsection (2) if—
 - (a) the last sentence imposed on the individual was a non-custodial sentence as a result of a conviction for an offence; and
 - (b) that offence has subsequently been abolished and the act that constituted the abolished offence no longer constitutes an offence; and
 - (c) he or she is no longer subject to the non-custodial sentence.
- (2) If an application is made to the District Court under subsection (1), a registrar must make an order that an individual need not complete a rehabilitation period for the purposes of section 7(1)(a) if the applicant provides evidence of the matters in subsection (1)(a) to (c).

Section 9(1): amended, on 1 March 2017, by section 261 of the District Court Act 2016 (2016 No 49).

Section 9(2): amended, on 1 March 2017, by section 261 of the District Court Act 2016 (2016 No 49).

10 Individual may apply to District Court for order that rehabilitation period need not be completed or conviction be disregarded

- (1) An individual who is otherwise eligible under section 7(1) may apply to the District Court for an order under subsection (2) if—
 - (a) the last sentence imposed on the individual was a custodial sentence as a result of a conviction for an offence; and
 - (b) that offence has subsequently been abolished and the act that constituted the abolished offence no longer constitutes an offence; and
 - (c) he or she is no longer subject to the custodial sentence.
- (2) The court may, if satisfied of the matters in subsection (1)(a) to (c), make an order—
 - (a) that the individual need not complete a rehabilitation period for the purposes of section 7(1)(a); and
 - (b) that the custodial sentence for the offence must be disregarded for the purposes of section 7(1)(b).

- (3) An individual who is otherwise eligible under section 7(1) may make an application to the District Court for an order under subsection (4) if a court imposed a non-custodial sentence on the offender for a conviction for a specified offence.
- (4) The court may order that the conviction for the specified offence must be disregarded for the purposes of section 7(1)(d).
- (5) In considering an application under this section, a court must balance the interests of individuals in concealing their criminal records against the wider public interest in the safety of the community (recognising that an awareness of an individual's previous convictions is appropriate in certain cases).
- (6) Subject to any rules of court, a court may call for and receive as evidence any statement, document, information, matter, or thing that, in the court's opinion, may assist it to deal effectually with the application.
- (7) On an application under subsection (1) or subsection (3), the court must either make the relevant order under subsection (2) or subsection (4) or decline to do so.
- (8) The District Court may transfer an application under this section to the High Court if it considers that it is appropriate to do so.

Section 10(1): amended, on 1 March 2017, by section 261 of the District Court Act 2016 (2016 No 49).

Section 10(3): amended, on 1 March 2017, by section 261 of the District Court Act 2016 (2016 No 49).

Section 10(8): amended, on 1 March 2017, by section 261 of the District Court Act 2016 (2016 No 49).

11 Further application

- (1) Subject to any rules of court, an individual may make a further application under section 9 or section 10 despite—
 - (a) having previously made an application under either of those sections; or
 - (b) having appealed under section 12.
- (2) Despite subsection (1), the court may dismiss any further application that it thinks is frivolous, vexatious, or an abuse of the procedure of the court.

12 Right of appeal

- (1) An individual may appeal to the High Court against the decision of the District Court if the District Court declines to make an order under section 10.
- (2) An individual may appeal to the Court of Appeal against the decision of the High Court if the High Court declines to make an order under section 10.
- (3) An appeal under this section must be brought in accordance with the appropriate rules of court within 28 days of the decision, or within such further time as the High Court or the Court of Appeal (as the case may be) may allow on application made before or after the expiration of that period.

- (4) An appeal under this section is by way of rehearing.
- (5) On the hearing of an appeal under this section, a court may confirm, reverse, or modify the decision appealed against.

Section 12(1): amended, on 1 March 2017, by section 261 of the District Court Act 2016 (2016 No 49).

13 Prohibition against publication of applicant's or appellant's name

- (1) If an application is made under section 9 or section 10, or an appeal is lodged under section 12, the following particulars must not be published in any report or account unless subsection (2) applies:
 - (a) the name of the applicant or appellant;
 - (b) any particulars leading to the identification of the applicant or appellant.
- (2) The particulars referred to in subsection (1) may be published in a report or account if the court orders that they may be published.
- (3) In deciding whether to permit the particulars referred to in subsection (1) to be published in a report or account, the court must have regard to—
 - (a) the interests of any individual (including, without limitation, the applicant or appellant); and
 - (b) the public interest.
- (4) Every person commits an offence if the person contravenes subsection (1) and is liable on conviction,—
 - (a) in the case of an individual, to a term of imprisonment not exceeding 3 months or a fine not exceeding $1,000, or both; or
 - (b) in the case of a body corporate, to a fine not exceeding $5,000.

Section 13(4): amended, on 1 July 2013, by section 413 of the Criminal Procedure Act 2011 (2011 No 81).

Effect of clean slate scheme on eligible individual

14 Effect of clean slate scheme on eligible individual

- (1) If an individual is an eligible individual, he or she is deemed to have no criminal record for the purposes of any question asked of him or her about his or her criminal record.
- (2) An eligible individual may answer a question asked of him or her about his or her criminal record by stating that he or she has no criminal record.
- (3) Nothing in subsection (1) or subsection (2)—
 - (a) prevents an eligible individual stating that he or she has a criminal record, disclosing his or her criminal record, or consenting to the disclosure of his or her criminal record; or

- (b) authorises an individual to answer a question asked of him or her about his or her criminal record by stating that he or she has no criminal record if the question is asked—
 - (i) under the jurisdiction of the law of a foreign country while an eligible individual is outside New Zealand; or
 - (ii) while he or she is in New Zealand but relates to a matter dealt with by the law of a foreign country (for example, a question asked on an application form by the immigration or customs agency of a foreign country).
- (4) Subsections (1) and (2) are subject to the exceptions in section 19.

Effect of clean slate scheme on controlling public offices that hold or have access to criminal records

Heading: amended, on 10 April 2018, by section 24(2) of the Criminal Records (Expungement of Convictions for Historical Homosexual Offences) Act 2018 (2018 No 7).

15 Responsibility of chief executives

- (1) Subsection (2) applies to the Secretary for Justice and every other chief executive of a controlling public office that holds, or has access to, criminal records.
- (2) A chief executive to whom this subsection applies must take all reasonable steps (including, without limitation, the development of policies and procedures) to ensure the office for which he or she is chief executive, and any employee or contractor of that office—
 - (a) conceals the criminal records of eligible individuals when requests are made for their disclosure other than by the eligible individuals to whom the criminal records relate; and
 - (b) does not use the criminal records of eligible individuals other than for a purpose authorised under this Act.
- (3) Subsection (2)(a) is subject to the exceptions in section 19.

Section 15(1): amended, on 10 April 2018, by section 24(2) of the Criminal Records (Expungement of Convictions for Historical Homosexual Offences) Act 2018 (2018 No 7).

Section 15(2): amended, on 10 April 2018, by section 24(2) of the Criminal Records (Expungement of Convictions for Historical Homosexual Offences) Act 2018 (2018 No 7).

16 Effect of clean slate scheme on controlling public offices, employees, and contractors

- (1) A controlling public office, or an employee or contractor of a controlling public office, that holds or has access to criminal records and that is responding to a request for the disclosure of an eligible individual's criminal record or any information about an eligible individual's criminal record (other than from the eligible individual to whom the request relates) must not disclose the criminal record of the eligible individual.

- (2) A controlling public office, or an employee or contractor of a controlling public office, that holds or has access to the criminal records of eligible individuals may not use those criminal records other than for a purpose authorised under this Act.

- (3) Subsection (1) is subject to the exceptions in section 19.

Section 16 heading: amended, on 10 April 2018, by section 24(2) of the Criminal Records (Expungement of Convictions for Historical Homosexual Offences) Act 2018 (2018 No 7).

Section 16(1): amended, on 10 April 2018, by section 24(2) of the Criminal Records (Expungement of Convictions for Historical Homosexual Offences) Act 2018 (2018 No 7).

Section 16(2): amended, on 10 April 2018, by section 24(2) of the Criminal Records (Expungement of Convictions for Historical Homosexual Offences) Act 2018 (2018 No 7).

Offences

17 Offence to unlawfully disclose information required to be concealed

- (1A) This section applies to a person who—

- (a) is an officer, employee, or contractor of a controlling public office, government department, or law enforcement agency; and
- (b) has access to criminal records that are held by, or accessible to, the office, department, or agency.

- (1) The person commits an offence if the person has access to criminal records, and knowing that he or she does not have lawful authority under this Act, or being reckless as to whether or not he or she has lawful authority under this Act, discloses to any person, body, or agency the criminal record, or information about the criminal record, of an eligible individual that is required to be concealed.

- (2) A person who commits an offence against subsection (1) is liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding $20,000.

Section 17(1A): inserted, on 10 April 2018, by section 24(2) of the Criminal Records (Expungement of Convictions for Historical Homosexual Offences) Act 2018 (2018 No 7).

Section 17(2): amended, on 1 July 2013, by section 413 of the Criminal Procedure Act 2011 (2011 No 81).

18 Offence to require or request that individual disregard scheme

- (1) A person commits an offence if, without lawful authority under this Act, the person requires or requests that an individual—

- (a) disregard the effect of the clean slate scheme when answering a question about his or her criminal record; or
- (b) disregard the effect of the clean slate scheme and disclose, or give consent to the disclosure of, his or her criminal record.

- (2) A person who commits an offence against subsection (1) is liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding $10,000.

Section 18(2): amended, on 1 July 2013, by section 413 of the Criminal Procedure Act 2011 (2011 No 81).

Exceptions

19 Exceptions to general effect of clean slate scheme

- (1) An eligible individual must state that he or she has a criminal record if subsection (3) applies.
- (2) A controlling public office, or an employee or contractor of a controlling public office, that holds or has access to criminal records may disclose the criminal record or information about the criminal record of an eligible individual if subsection (3) applies.
- (3) This subsection applies if—
- (a) the eligible individual's criminal record or information about the eligible individual's criminal record is necessary for any of the following purposes:
 - (i) the exercise of the prevention, detection, investigation, or prosecution functions of a law enforcement agency or an overseas agency or body whose functions correspond to those of a law enforcement agency; or
 - (ii) the administration of sentences or the management of remand inmates by a law enforcement agency; or
 - (iii) the exercise of the protective security advice and assistance function of the New Zealand Security Intelligence Service under section 11 of the Intelligence and Security Act 2017; or
 - (b) the eligible individual's criminal record or information about the eligible individual's criminal record is relevant to any criminal or civil proceedings before a court or tribunal (including sentencing) or proceedings before the New Zealand Parole Board; or
 - (c) the eligible individual has made an application of any kind under the Arms Act 1983 and a Police employee is considering whether the individual is a fit and proper person for the purposes of that application; or
 - (d) the eligible individual has made an application for employment—
 - (i) in a position that involves the national security of New Zealand; or
 - (ii) as a Judge, Justice of the Peace, or Community Magistrate; or
 - (iii) as a Police employee, prison officer, probation officer, or security officer; or

- (e) the eligible individual has made an application to act in a role predominantly involving the care and protection of, but not predominantly involving the delivery of education to, a child or young person (for example, a foster parent or a caregiver of children or young persons); or
- (f) the eligible individual's criminal record or information about an eligible individual's criminal record is relevant to an investigation under section 17 of the Oranga Tamariki Act 1989 of a report of ill-treatment or neglect of a child or young person or in relation to any procedure under Part 2 of that Act arising from an investigation of that kind (including, without limitation, holding a family group conference or the Family Court's consideration of an application for a declaration that a child or young person is in need of care or protection); or
- (g) the eligible individual's criminal record or information about an eligible individual's criminal record is relevant to the undertaking of research that requires access to criminal history information to be given to any employee or person contracted to a controlling public office or to any person undertaking research approved by a controlling public office.
